First from Wilmington.

The first shipment of strawberries from Wilmington was made yesterday by express by Mr. W. A. Riach. The fruit was especially fine and very large. The crate went to Lord & Spencer, of Boston, and will doubtless bring a handsome price.

COL. ROGER MOORE

Died Very Suddenly at His Home in This City Last Night at 11 O'clock.

A STROKE OF APOPLEXY.

Stricken to Death Just as He Was Retiring as Usual for the Night—Long Career of Usefulness and Good Words—A Christian Man.

It will be with the most sincere sorrow and deep regret that the people of Wilmington and his numerous friends and acquaintances in North Carolina will receive this morning the announcement of the death of Col. Roger Moore, which occurred last night at 11 o'clock at his home in this city, No. 113 Chesnut street.

Col. Moore was in his usual health during yesterday and his family and intimate friends were totally unprepared for the shock which came in the knowledge of his death last night, which was due to a stroke of apoplexy and which came after taking a bath and just as he was retiring for the night.

Col. Moore was one of the best known and the most universally esteemed of Wilmington's citizens. Prominent in the commercial life of the city, a devoted member of the Methodist Episcopal church, a loyal son of his county, State and country, there are none who knew him but revere his name; none that were intimately associated with him but that recognized his substantial Christian character, and those sterling traits of character and manhood, which go to make up the whole man, A brave and courageous soldier; a devoted husband and father, a sincere friend, his life was one well worthy of emulation and one which in influence will live after him.

Col. Moore was born of notable parentage, July 19th, 1838, and was therefore in the sixty-second year of his age. He has been a life long resident of Wilmington, and has been always prominently identified with the commercial interests of the city. He was twice married and leaves a number of surviving immediate relatives to whom is poured out the deepest sympathy of a wide circle of friends not only in Wilmington, but in the State. His first wife was Miss Rebecca Smith, daughter of the late Thos. Smith, and she has long since passed into rest. As a result of this union there was only one son, the late Roger Moore, Jr., who died after his advancement to manhood. His second wife was Mrs. George B. Atkins, daughter of the lamented Capt. B. W. Berry, whom he married about twenty-nine years ago, and she, with two daughters and four sons, survive him. The sons are Mr. Quince Moore, Mr. Henry Moore, Mr. Edwin Moore and Master Lewis Moore. The daughters are Miss Annie Moore, who is in college at the University of Chicago, and little Miss Ella Moore, who is at home with her parents. He also has a sister, Mrs. Bettie Petteway, who is now visiting in Raleigh.

Col. Moore has been a faithful and devoted member of Grace Church for a period of twelve years and has for a considerable portion of the time served as a steward. Rev. J. N. Cole, his pastor, in speaking last night of his connection with the Methodist church, said that he had held every position of honor and trust in the gift of the congregation. He has also held positions of prominence in the Conference and was one of its most valued workers. He was a member of several fraternal and benevolent orders, among them being Cornelius Harnett Council, Royal Arcanum. He served gallantly in the Confederate army and was Colonel of the Third North Carolina Cavalry. His benevolence and charity were well known, and no deserving request was ever refused at his hands. For some years he has been a director of the Associated Charities, an official in the Seamen's Friend Society and his good works were not alone confined to these institutions. For years he was Chief of the Volunteer Fire Department of the city and for a number of years he has been a member of the Board of County Commissioners, having been for the past four years its chairman. He was also at the time of his death chairman of the Board of Hospital Managers and of the County Auditing Board. He has also held various other positions of trust and responsibility which are not now recalled.

Though few people, owing to the lateness of the hour, heard of the death last night, many friends called at the home to offer condolences to the grief-stricken family and to evidence their supreme regret at the death of Col. Moore. Dr. W. J. Love was the first to reach the home and he pronounced the death instantaneous and due to apoplexy, as stated.

The funeral will be from Grace M. E. church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock, by the pastor, Rev. J. N. Cole, and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

Dissolution Notice.

Announcement is made this morning of the dissolution of the firm of Owen F. Love & Co., wholesale hardware merchants on Front street. It is learned that Mr. Owen F. Love will continue the tinware department of the business at No. 6 Princess street, the store formerly occupied by Capt. D. J. Black in the commission business.

PERFECTED ORGANIZATION.

Coast Line Team Elected Officers Last Night But Will Go Into Field With New Name.

The base ball contingent formerly composing the Atlantic Coast Line team which held a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. on last Saturday night, met again last evening to perfect the organization of the club. The enthusiasm of the boys was evinced last night by the large number in attendance and a very encouraging meeting was held. The following officers were elected:

President—S. C. Morton.
Secretary and Treasurer—T. H. Wood.
Manager—James Sinclair.
Captain—R. H. Gwaltney.

Messrs. S. C. Morton and James Sinclair were appointed a committee to draft by-laws and a constitution for the new organization and to decide upon a name for the same.

The team will be chosen from the following list of well known players: B. A. Jones, Jr., Frank Penner, Otto Genaust, S. C. Morton, W. Moore, E. Moore, J. McRee Hatch, H. L. Sanders, H. Wood, Neill McLaurin, Leslie Wiggs, Fred Dock, Geo. Davis, Frank Turrentine, Geo. Brunson, R. H. Gwaltney, Jas. Sinclair, James Jackson.

A team selected from the above list, and managed by Sinclair and captained by Gwaltney is sure to be a winner, and regular practice will begin Monday afternoon at Hilton Park.

General Manager Skelding, of the Street Railway Company, who always has a wiling hand for the advancement of the interest of Wilmington athletics, has kindly tendered the applicants passes to and from Hilton.

As already stated this club will not interfere with the Athletic Association, which will have its team out for practice later.

Several have suggested that as a large majority of the players in the team which met last night are members of the Wilmington Light Infantry it would be well for it to take the name of the "W. L. I. Baseball Team" and to narrow the coming series of contents with the Naval Reserves' team down to a fight for base ball supremacy between these two popular military organizations.

Off for Germany.

Mr. Jno. H. Kuck, Mrs. Kuck and son, and Mr. George Schnibben, left last evening for Hoboken, New Jersey, from whence they will sail on the German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Maria Theresa on Tuesday for Bremerhaven, Germany, their old home. They will be joined at Hoboken by Mr. Henry Burfeindt, who left several days ago, and the party will make the voyage together, remaining in their native land for two or three months. Before returning Mr. and Mrs. Kuck and son will visit the Paris Exposition, probably spending several weeks there.

A number of friends gathered at the station last evening to bid them adieu and wish for them a happy and pleasant trip.

At the Beaches.

The warm April sunshine promised for to-day will probably take many people to the beaches to spend at least a part of the day. The recent improvements, the new buildings and many other things that have been talked about in the papers for the past two weeks will add a tinge of interest to a proposed visit to the seaside resorts and it is safe to say that if the weather conditions are at all favorable many people will go down.

Mr. A. A. Nathan will be at Wrightsville to welcome the visitors and extend to them any courtesies that may be possible.

Schubert Hall Recital.

The regular recital by pupils of Miss Cannie Chasten's class was given yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in Schubert Hall. The following programme was rendered:

"Allegretto," (Spindler) by Miss Ola Mitchell.

"Spring Song," (Mendelssohn) by Miss Irene Peterson.

"The Secret," (Reinecke) by Miss Jessie Lathrop. (Pupil of Miss Carrie May VonGlahn.)

"Teasing," (Wilm) by Miss Agnes Hall Chasten.

"Second Mazurka," (Godard) by Miss Lucy McEachern.

Wilmington Strawberry Market.

Capt. J. B. Huggins received at his store on Market street yesterday the first whole crate of strawberries for sale on the Wilmington market. They were shipped to him by Mr. H. W. Tompkins, of Scott's Hill, and found ready sale at 25 cents per quart. They were of the well known "Lady Thompson" variety and especially fine.

Y. M. C. A. Physical Director.

At a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium Committee yesterday morning it was decided to offer the position of physical director to Mr. M. N. Wetzel, of St. Louis, Mo. Secretary Turner advised Mr. Wetzel by letter of the decision and requested a reply by telegraph. The young man is eminently qualified for the position and it is believed that he will accept.

SHOT FOUR TIMES.

Negroes Had Quarrel at Hilton Lumber Company's Mill in Which One Was Shot Four Times.

Last night about 10 o'clock in the yards of the Hilton Lumber Company, Elliott Whistberg, a young negro who came here several months ago from Sumter, S. C., and who is employed by the Cape Fear Lumber Company, was shot and severely wounded in four places by Will Johnson, a colored employe of the Hilton Lumber Company. Whistberg was brought to police headquarters by an associate and after an examination by Dr. McMillan, he was sent to the City Hospital, where the bullets were extracted from his flesh.

Johnson was later arrested by the police and placed in the lock-up. He does not deny the shooting, but says that Whistberg came to him at his work and attempted to make trouble over a woman, who was present. He attempted to get him away from the lumber yard, he said, and upon his refusal to do so an altercation ensued, in which Whistberg was wounded as stated.

One of the balls entered the left jaw, another the right side, a third the right hip and the fourth penetrated the calf of the negro's right leg. The wounds are from a 32-calibre revolver and are not dangerous. Whistberg says that Johnson emptied his revolver at him and that four of the five shots fired hit him.

Notice to Mariners.

The Light House Board publishes the following:

Notice is hereby given that the rear beacon of the Smith Island range, entrance to Cape Fear river, reported as struck by lightning and badly damaged on April 12th, has been repaired and light was exhibited as heretofore from the beacon on April 15th.

Missionary Meeting.

The twenty-second annual meeting of the North Carolina Conference Woman's Foreign Mission Society, will be held in Grace church in this city May 11 to 15th, 1900. A missionary from Brazil is expected to be present and the anniversary sermon on Sunday morning May 15th will be preached by Rev. R. F. Bumpass.

HIGH TRIBUTE TO SKILL.

The following is a letter from Dr. Wright Hall, of this city, to Dr. O. F. Dingelhoef, Optician, No. 123 Market street. Dr. Dingelhoef does not treat medically or surgically; his profession being that of the scientific adjustment of glasses to the eye:

DEAR DOCTOR—On coming to you I could not see the large headlines in the newspapers. My eyes were in a very bad condition, and steadily growing worse. I really believe that I would have been totally blind ere this had I not consulted you. Thanks to your skill I am able to do my work with comparative ease, seeing everything perfectly. I also suffered unceasingly with headache, neuralgia and inflamed eyes, which your glasses have entirely relieved.

With the distant glasses I am able to see as far as I ever could, with perfect ease and comfort.

I am now able to read the finest print, either by day or artificial light, with your glasses, and can even read without them during the day, so much have they improved. I am writing this letter without the aid of the glasses; so you can readily see the wonderful improvement in my vision. I am more than pleased with your work, and wish you continued success in your profession.

CLOSING SESSION.

The American Fruit and Produce Travellers' Association Finished Its Business.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Mr. J. R. Franklin Honored With a Re-election to Position of Secretary and Treasurer—Official Organ Chosen—Other Business.

The second annual convention of the American Fruit and Produce Travellers Association concluded a two day's session last night which was marked by enthusiasm of members and intense interest manifested in the proceedings by those in attendance.

The most important matters for the consideration of the Association are not of a public nature and interest only Association members. However, it can be said that much was accomplished during the meeting and each officer and member speaks in the highest terms of the work in contemplation and those matters which were disposed of. The attendance was probably not so good as it should have been, but during yesterday many telegrams and letters were received sending greetings to the Association and wishing it a pleasant and profitable session.

Probably the most important action of last night's session was the election of officers for the ensuing year which resulted after lively balloting as follows:

President—Mr. J. G. Thompson, of Philadelphia, representing Brown and McMahon, Philadelphia.

Vice President—Mr. A. J. Carey, of Cleveland, Ohio, with J. J. Pitts & Co., of Philadelphia.

Secretary and Treasurer—Mr. J. R. Franklin, of the firm of Sterling & Franklin, Baltimore.

After the election of the officers the question of naming an executive committee came up and after a discussion the appointment of same was delegated to the newly elected president, Mr. Thompson. The contest waxed warmed over the fight for the next place of holding the meeting. The matter was finally left with the executive committee to determine.

The association has become a very decided factor in the fruit and produce commission business of the country and has now a membership of about one hundred and fifty, composed almost entirely of fruit and produce commission men and their representatives in all the large cities East and West.

The various committees will be appointed by the new president and announced in a few days. The Carolina Fruit and Truck Growers' Journal, of this city, was unanimously adopted as the official organ of the association.

Just before adjourning a vote of thanks was tendered the Merchants' Association for use of their rooms for the annual session and to the press of the city for the excellent reports of the proceedings.

MARRIED.

At the residence of Rev. Edward Wootten, No. 11 South Third street, Wilmington, N. C., on Tuesday, April 17th, at 8 o'clock P. M., Miss LALA GUTHRIE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Guthrie, of Southport, to Mr. J. W. VASS, of Wilmington.

DIED.

MOORE—At his home in this city, No. 113 Chesnut street, last night at 11 o'clock, Col. ROGER MOORE, in the sixty-second year of his age.

Funeral to-morrow (Monday) morning at 11 o'clock from Grace M. E. Church. Interment at Oakdale cemetery. Friends and acquaintances invited to attend.

For Judge of the Tenth District:
W. B. COUNCILL, of Watauga.

IF THERE, WHY NOT HERE?

Yesterday we published an editorial from the Philadelphia Press, one of the leading Republican papers of Pennsylvania, undertaking to explain why autonomous government was given to Hawaii and denied to Porto Rico, the sum and substance of which was that the Hawaiians were less illiterate than the Porto Ricans and therefore better qualified for self-government. The gist of the article and the logic of the argument contained in it is expressed in the following concluding paragraph:

"Experiment and experience may show that change and modification are necessary. As Puerto Rico improves, its rights, privileges and immunities will improve. But the principle is right. The self-government and administration of any community must and should be adjusted to the condition and progress of the community. No grant of rights and privileges can create the capacity to use them. That blunder has already been made too often in this country. One course only is either wise or safe. Whereas in Hawaii local self government has been proved to be possible it should be granted. In Puerto Rico, where it has not been proved to be possible and known conditions show it is not feasible, only such degree of self-government should be granted as is prudent and practicable."

The meaning of this is that intelligence should rule, although the intelligent may be small in number compared with the total population, as in Hawaii, for instance, where the intelligent element, according to the Press, is not more than one-twentieth of the whole. If we deduct the English, who are included in this number, and count only the Americans and those of American parentage (and they it is who are the real rulers), they probably would not number more than one in forty. But to this very small number the government of the islands is given over because they, as asserted, possess the requisite intelligence to administer public affairs. This is the argument and the conclusion drawn from it by this eminent Republican organ, namely, that, intelligence should rule, whether the intelligent be few or many, or the illiterate be many or few.

But there was more zeal to defend the action of its party and more ingenuity displayed in presenting the argument than candor in the Press article, for disfranchising the illiterate in Hawaii was not inspired solely by the desire to ensure intelligent rule. Back of it was the race question. The men who had seized the government from the black queen and established a so-called Republic on the ruins of the monarchy knew if there was popular suffrage without restriction of some kind they could never hold their own against the natives, who outnumbered them twenty to one. As a prevention against that they adopted qualified suffrage, a double qualification, both educational and property, which practically debarred nine out of ten of the natives from the ballot box, and consequently from any voice in the direction of public affairs. The property qualification was subsequently stricken out.

It was the race line, the color line, the handful of white people against the mass of copper colored natives. This, this eminent Republican organ says, is right in Hawaii, and would be right in Porto Rico, for intelligence must rule, and it goes further in its conclusion and declares that as a principle it is right everywhere. This is especially worthy of note because the Press is a distinguished Republican organ and speaks for the McKinley administration, in whose defence the article we quoted yesterday was written and published. It is controlled and its leading articles on questions which concern the administration are inspired if not written by the editor-in chief, who is now a member of McKinley's cabinet, which gives its utterances more than ordinary importance. Recognizing the fact, as it must, that the inspiring motive for restricted suffrage in Hawaii was to prevent the natives from exercising the franchise, it virtually endorses drawing the color line and the exclusion of the copper colored natives from the right to vote, not so much on account of their illiteracy as on account of the race to which they belong, and the antagonism between the races.

It does not appear on the face of it that it was the race difference more than the illiteracy of the great mass of voters that caused the ballot to be withheld from them, but that is what it was, just as in the South the object of qualified or restricted suffrage is to eliminate as far as possible the black element from the ballot box. This fact is not proclaimed, but it is a fact nevertheless, and we have too much regard for the truth to deny it.

If this is right in Hawaii, in Porto Rico, (where the same methods will be adopted), and right in the Philippines, where, if we hold on to them, qualified suffrage will be adopted, why isn't it right in North Carolina, South Carolina or in any other Southern State where we are confronted by a large negro population, no less illiterate and no more fit for the control of public affairs than the natives of Hawaii, Porto Rico and of the Philippines are?

The natives of Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines have never had the opportunity to demonstrate their capacity in this respect for they have lived under monarchies, although they are credited by people who have lived among them with a fair degree of intelligence, and some of them with capacity and fitness for station of a high order, but the negroes of this country have lived under a Republican form of government and have for a generation had the advantage of schools and other civilizing and elevating agencies, and the example of and contact and association with white men, and yet at the end of a generation instead of advancing in the qualifications for citizenship they have retrograded and are really less fit as a mass to exercise the franchise now than they were thirty years ago. In view of this we would like to know why, if qualified suffrage, based, as we have shown, on race lines, is the good and the best and the only safe course to pursue in Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines, as this organ from which we quote, which speaks for the administration, says it is, why isn't it the good, best and only safe course to pursue in North Carolina and in other Southern States where the negro vote is a factor of more or less power in politics. If not, why not?

A BAD PLACE FOR AMERICANS.

We have heard much from expansionists about the delightful climate and fascinations of life in the Philippines and what an inviting field they will be for the American who desires to better his fortune in that part of the world. There may possibly be some attraction there in the novelty, everything being so different from what the average American has been accustomed to, but this soon wears off, the climate and the ailments peculiar to the country which attack the new comer begin to manifest themselves, especially if the new comer be subjected to exposure and hardships. This is true to a greater or less extent of all tropical regions, but it is especially true of this particular archipelago. In all warm countries there is more or less malaria in all the fresh soil broken and turned up, but in these islands the breaking up of fresh soil is attended with a malaria deadly in its effects to those much exposed to it, and that is one of the reasons why there is such a small area cultivated in proportion to the quantity susceptible to cultivation.

The American people have been shocked by the reports of the number of soldiers who become insane over there, and the number made physical wrecks, young, robust men who could in other countries stand any amount of exposure and roughness, but who succumb in a short time to the malign influences of that climate and other conditions and become mental or physical wrecks, sometimes both.

Dr. Hefflefinger, of Huntsville, Ala., who went from Texas and served as an army surgeon in the Philippines, tells the whole story in the following extract from a letter published in a Paris, Texas, paper. After speaking of other things, he, in conclusion, says:

"I should like to advise all my old neighbor boys and friends in Texas against enlisting for service in the Philippines, and not to allow the allurements of a commission to induce them to enter the service in that country. I do not believe any of our men can endure that climate longer than two years, and feel certain that our entire army now there will have to be returned by that time, or bury the major portion of them there. It is not a white man's country, and Americans can never become successful citizens. This country has a poor conception of the true status of affairs over there."

As an army surgeon, Dr. Hefflefinger had abundant opportunity to study the effect of the climate and the sanitary conditions on Americans, and he doubtless in this extract speaks the plain, simple truth and it is corroborated by the fearful list of mental and physical wrecks reported.

STRONGER THAN THE TICKET.

It is universally conceded that the ticket nominated by the Democratic Convention at Raleigh is a strong one, strong individually and collectively, but our candidate for Governor says that his intercourse with the people as he travels, and at the different places where he and his associates on the ticket have spoken has convinced him that however acceptible the ticket may be, the amendment is stronger with the people. At Asheville last Thursday, speaking to the correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer about the effect of the declaration in the Democratic platform of liberal support to the public schools, he said:

"It is a fact that many people of wealth and education have been indifferent to the education of the masses. But the present campaign compels even this small class to become advocates of universal education. In this way the campaign is accomplishing great good

"Republicans cannot meet or stand before this mighty wave of educational interest; demagogy is at a discount, and before this campaign ends in properly conducted, we shall drive the Republicans themselves away from their effort to perpetuate illiteracy in the State.

"The campaign has developed another fact. The amendment is stronger than the ticket. Thousands of Republicans who were not blinded by their immediate interest see in it the beginning of that era of intellectual and political freedom which will enable them to press the views of either party upon the attention of the voter without being hampered by the danger of negro rule.

"Democrats find in it a freedom which they have not enjoyed for many years, enabling them hereafter to act with independence.

"The unrest arising out of the danger of negro domination has retarded our industrial development, and business men—I use the word in the broad sense in which Mr. Bryan uses it—are anxious to put the question at rest.

"All these things combine to make the principle stronger than the ticket which represents the principle.

"There is no doubt of our success, but every lover of the State owes it the duty to work from now until the election; to work earnestly and in all charity to settle the matter by such a majority as shall render it hopeless on the part of any party ever to return to existing conditions."

The Republican machine managers hope, with the assistance of Marion Butler and his associates, to defeat the amendment by telling the white voters, who they think are credulous enough to be deceived, that the amendment will deprive white men as well as negroes of the right to vote, but they are not making as much progress on that line as they hoped to, for the average white voter has more sense than they give him credit for, in addition to which white voters have been fooled so often by these mountebanks that they see through them now. The amendment will receive a large majority even in the sections where the Pritchard-Butler combine make the hardest fight against it.

AN APPEAL TO DEMOCRACY.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 20th, 1900.

To the Democrats of North Carolina:

We are engaged in a campaign of education. We want every white man in North Carolina to understand the amendment. We want no white man in North Carolina to be misled by the miserable falsehoods and misrepresentations that our enemies are circulating with reference to this measure. It is certain if the white people of the State do understand the amendment, its effect upon the State and the individual citizen, they will give it such a majority as no measure submitted to the people has ever before received in the history of the State, and will give the ticket representing this measure the most decisive majority of recent years.

To print and distribute literature and to circulate papers and to defray other necessary expenses of such a campaign as we are now engaged in is expensive and requires ready money. Your committee is practically without funds. Indeed, for the last three weeks it has been borrowing money to meet current expenses.

The committee takes this method of appealing to the Democrats and all the friends of good government and white supremacy in the State for contributions to pay the legitimate and necessary expenses of the campaign. We feel sure this appeal will not be in vain.

Contributions can be sent directly to the chairman of the committee at Raleigh and will be duly acknowledged.

Yours truly,
F. M. SIMMONS, Chairman.

—While England is spending hundreds of millions in an attempt to extend her empire in South Africa at the expense of liberty and in defiance of humanity and justice, girls are selling in India (another part of her empire) at 30 cents a head, because their starving parents cannot feed themselves in any other way. It is thus that civilization, enlightenment and "benevolent assimilation" follow imperialism, of the English, as well as the American, brand.—Norfolk Virginian—Pilot, Dem.

—The treatment of Porto Rico by the Administration, it is suggested, will have one good effect at any rate. It will greatly reduce the number of annexationists in Cuba.—Charleston News and Courier, Dem.

"I found your medicine a blessing to me and my family."

There are women who feel something like a grudge against the children, who, one after another rob their mother of her beauty and strength. Men do not usually realize how much the mother gives to each child to her own loss. Women accept it as part of the obligation of Nature and pay the debt grudgingly. Yet in Nature's plan every child is a new joy and fresh happiness. It isn't the children that steal the mother's strength. It is the unnatural drains and pains which weaken her.

Every woman who has used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has found in it the one thing woman has waited for. It stops the drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, makes the baby's advent a pleasure and his life a blessing. No opiates or narcotics are contained in "Favorite Prescription."

"I read what your medicine had done for other people," writes Mrs. Edwin H. Gardner, Box 70, Beechwood, Norfolk Co., Mass., "so thought I would try it, and I found that it was a blessing to me and my family. I began in June and took six bottles of your medicine, and three vials of 'Pellets.' I took your medicine a year when I had a ten pound girl. I had the easiest time I ever had with any of my children. I have been very well since. I took three bottles of "Favorite Prescription, three of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and three vials of 'Pellets.' I had no appetite and could not eat much without it distressing me. Before I took the medicine I only weighed 135 pounds, and now I weigh 175."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets clear the brain by cleansing the body of the corruption which clouds it.

DREAMS.

LORD BYRON.

Our life is twofold: Sleep hath its own world,
A boundary between the things misnamed
Death and existence. Sleep hath its own world,
And a wide realm of wild reality,
And dreams in their development have breath,
And tears, and tortures, and the touch of joy;
They leave a weight upon our waking thoughts,
They take a weight from off our waking toils,
They do divide our being; they become
A portion of ourselves as of our time,
And look like heralds of eternity;
They pass like spirits of the past—they speak
Like Sibyls of the future; they have power—
The tyranny of pleasure and of pain;
They make us what we were not—what they will,
And shake us with the vision that's gone by,
The dread of vanished shadows—Are they so?
Is not the past all shadow? What are they?
Creations of the mind. The mind can make
Substance, and people planets of its own
With beings brighter than have been, and give
A breath to forms which can outlive all fish,
I would recall a vision which I dreamed
Perchance in sleep—for in itself a thought,
A slumbering thought, is capable of years,
And curdles a long life into one hour.

Prevented A Tragedy.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle wholly cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of Pneumonia. Such cures are the positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, lung and chest troubles. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottle 10 cents at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store; every bottle guaranteed. †

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

—Fayetteville Observer: Miss Mary O'Brien, sister of Rev. Father O'Brien, of the Catholic church of this city, died last (Thursday) night from a severe attack of pneumonia.

—Charlotte News: Columbus Wilson, white, was killed yesterday afternoon on the Southern Railway near Grover. The man was sitting on the cross ties, apparently asleep. Engineer W. M. Linberger was pulling freight No. 72 into Grover. He did not see the man until too late to stop the train. The engine struck him, killing him instantly.

—Henderson Gold Leaf: In some sections of the country around Henderson it is said that more cotton and tobacco will be planted this year. We suppose the reason for so doing in on account of better prices for cotton, and demand by the Henderson cotton mills for the fine texture of the staple produced in this part of the cotton growing country.

—Mount Olive Advertiser: The strawberry crop along the Wilmington and Weldon railway will be somewhat less than last year, the decrease at Mt. Olive, however, will be comparatively slight. It is conceded by those who have been over the territory, the berries look more promising, both for quality and quantity at this place, than they do at any other point in the berry belt.

—Raleigh News and Observer: The increase in the sales of commercial fertilizers in this State, as shown by the agricultural department's books, is enormous. Seven years ago the sales were 145,000 tons. This year they will probably reach at least 250,000 tons. Already they amount to 193,380 tons. The tonnage tax is 20 cents, and the receipts aggregate $38,676 thus far. This shows that the farmers have about decided to abandon tobacco culture and to grow cotton.

—High Point Enterprise: Mr. D. G. Davis, of Progress, tells the enterprise that last week he killed an owl that measured 42 inches from tip to tip and 22 inches in length. — Charley Moore an employee of High Point Chair Company, brought in a curiosity this week. He had a chair post embedded in the middle of which was a flint rock. There was no knot in the wood and there was much conjecture on the part of the workmen how the rock got in the wood.

—It appears that within two years the price of coal in Europe has nearly doubled, to the serious menace of many industrial interests. Yet although coal is an important material both in the construction and in the operation of steamships, the subsidy mongers are pleading for an enormous bounty of $9,000,000 for ships in a country where coal is cheaper and more abundant than anywhere in the world. If the wages of American seaman be higher than the wages of foreigners the cheapness of American coal will more than make up for the difference.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

PROMINENT EDITOR RELIEVED BY PERUNA.

HON. HOBART BROOKS, OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

Hon. Hobart Brooks, editor and owner of the Washington "Capital," 1598 Pennsylvania Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman says:

Dear Sir—It is with great pleasure that I can testify as to the merits of Peruna. After suffering over a year with catarrh I began taking Pe-ru-na. I took one bottle, and so great was the effect that I rapidly recovered and am now enjoying good health. To all who suffer from debility of any kind I recommend Pe-ru-na as a most valuable tonic.

Hobart Brooks.

Prof. J. F. Turner, Edgefield, Tenn.

Prof. J. F. Turner, Principal H. B. High school, Edgefield, Tenn., in a recent letter says: "I suffered for nine years with catarrh, and after trying several remedies I gave up, and concluded that there was no cure for me. I noticed so many testimonials from prominent men relative to Pe-ru-na that I concluded to try one bottle, little expecting any help. I had grown rather to believe that all catarrh cures were nothing but frauds, but your remedy Pe-ru-na is the greatest panacea to-day for those suffering with catarrh. I do not hesitate to recommend it. Before I had used one bottle I noticed a great change in myself, and four bottles cured me entirely. I would not be without Pe-ru-na for any consideration.

The reason so many people get chronic catarrh is, the disease gets firmly established before it is recognized. They fool themselves by calling it some other name than its proper one—catarrh. When people get acute catarrh they call it a cold. If they have acute nasal catarrh it is called coryza. Endemic catarrh they call influenza, and epidemic catarrh they name la grippe. When the catarrh reaches the throat it is called tonsilitis, or laryngitis. Catarrh of the bronchial tubes is called bronchitis; catarrh of the lungs consumption. Any internal remedy that will cure catarrh in one location will cure it in any other location. This is why Pe-ru-na has become so justly famous in the cure of catarrhal diseases. It cures catarrh wherever located. Its cures remain. Pe-ru-na does not palliate; it cures.

Mr. W. B. Steffy, Glouster, O., writes: "I was afflicted with hereditary catarrh, and grew worse as I grew older, until my whole system seemed affected. After trying many doctors and different positive (?) cures, I had almost given up hope, when I was induced to try Pe-ru-na. After trying one bottle I felt a general strengthening of my system and after a few months' use of Pe-ru-na I was cured. That was two years ago. I use Pe-ru-na every spring, so as to get my system in good shape for the summer."

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The cotton market opened quiet with prices unchanged to two points lower and showed a certain amount of irregularity all of the forenoon, under light local selling of a week end evening-up nature and absence of supporting orders. News was conflicting and in several instances contradictory, thus increasing the natural timidity caused of late by the persistent bobbing up of "manipulated stock market" rumors. The western and central belts seemed to change, first for the better so far as the weather was concerned, but in the Atlantic States additional rains were bulletined. Receipts at nearly all points were still very light with no prospect of a marked increase in the immediate future. The European cables were almost featureless and quite without influence. The South, Wall street and Europe sent very few orders; room traders were indisposed to take on new responsibilities at the moment. The market closed quiet with prices three to eleven points lower.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Cotton quiet; middling uplands 9 13 16c.

Cotton futures market closed quiet: April 9.35, May 9.36, June 9.32, July 9.42, August 9.19, September 8.41, October 8.15, November 8.00, December 8.00, January 8.01, February 8 02, March 8.09.

Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands 9 13-16c; middling gulf 10 1-16; sales 213 bales.

Net receipts 200 bales; gross receipts 200 bales; stock 111,785 bales.

Total to-day—Net receipts 198 bales; exports to Great Britain 3,150 bales; exports to France 782 bales; exports to the Continent 11,957 bales; stock 484,016 bales.

Is It Satisfactory?

That's the question that goes with every purchase here. If it's not satisfactory, bring it back to-day—to-morrow—next week—and get your money. It is this absolute assurance of fair dealing that retains our trade. Our customers know that "money back" is not a cry set up to deceive the unwary into buying, followed by all sorts of undue excuses and quibblings to avoid returning money on displeasing purchases. One of our maxims reads: "For you to remain dissatisfied is to make us more dissatisfied." It isn't to-day's trade we're depending on—it's to-morrow's—next week's—next month's—next year's! We want you to be so well pleased with your treatment here and with what you buy here, that you'll come again and again. And we will remark right now that our efforts to please have been so uniformly successful that calls for "money back" are rarely made. But it's here just the same, for any and all demands that may be made for purchases returned as undesirable.

SWITCHED OFF

BY KILBOURNE COWLES.

Louise Blakely was sitting in the dining car, preparing to enjoy her supper, when the brakeman came in and announced that the car would have to be vacated, as, owing to some accident, it could not be carried farther.

Notwithstanding the fact that Louise was deeply in love and even now on her way to visit the family of her fiance, she was possessed of a healthy young appetite, and she looked longingly at the tempting array of dishes which had been set before her just previous to the stern edict of the brakeman. It was cruel to be torn away from such a good supper, still untouched, she thought, and, yielding to a sudden impulse, she hastily wrapped a chop, some rolls and a generous supply of olives in a napkin and carried them with her into the sleeping car.

She was conscious of the amused glances of one or two of her fellow passengers, particularly a white bearded, benevolent looking old gentleman, whose eyes twinkled as she marched into the car with head held haughtily erect and the napkin safely clasped in her hands, but she reflected that she had paid for her supper and she had a perfect right to stay the pangs of hunger, even if she did appear a little ridiculous. Louise was a very independent young woman; if she had not been she would never have won her father's and mother's consent to take this trip. They had not been able to see the tragedy in the separation of two loving hearts for a period of some 60 days.

"Just think of it, mamma, dear," she had said; "if you don't allow me to accept Jack's mother's invitation it will be two whole months before we are together, for Jack says he can't possibly leave his business again until after the spring trade."

"But I don't like the idea of your going out to Chicago alone," her father argued.

"And you don't know his people," supplemented Mrs. Blakely. "It might be most awkward for you, Louise."

"You will put me on the train, papa, and I certainly know enough to take care of myself until Jack meets me, so you see there is no objection to my going alone. And, mamma, one of my reasons for wishing to make this visit is to get acquainted with Jack's people. I think every girl ought to make it her Christian duty to become acquainted with her prospective relatives, so she will go into the family with her eyes open," she said, with a fine assumption of wisdom. Of course she triumphed in the end. Mr. and Mrs. Blakely had not spoiled her systematically for 23 years for nothing.

Just as Louise was settling down to eat she was horrified to discover that her pocketbook was missing. She beckoned wildly to the porter, who was leisurely pacing the platform.

"Won't you please run down where the dining car is and get my pocketbook? I left it on the table. I will be so much obliged to you."

"I'ze sorry, miss, but it's 'gainst the rules to leave the car," he answered with importance.

Louise turned in desperation to the conductor, who seemed just about as adamantine.

"Can't he go, really?" she pleaded. "My ticket, checks and money are in my pocketbook. Oh, what can I do?" Her voice broke into a sob, and the white bearded old gentleman, who had been listening to the conversation, said as he laid his hand kindly on her shoulder:

"There, there; I'll go for you."

"Oh, thank you! How good of you! I hate to have you go, and yet I want my pocketbook."

"The train may start at any moment; you may take great chances, sir, of getting left," remarked the conductor, not attempting to conceal his disapproval.

"I will risk it for this little woman," said Louise's new friend as he started on his uncertain errand.

Going back to her seat, she tried not to worry. She philosophically decided to eat her lunch, and, opening the napkin, was startled to see, side by side with the chops, rolls and olives, her lost pocketbook.

Instead of rejoicing, she gazed upon it with loathing almost and sat perfectly still with it and the untasted food in her lap, sadly awaiting the return of her knight.

Every sound of whistle or engine bell sent terror to her heart, and she did not draw a peaceful breath until at last, just before the train started, the old gentleman appeared, looking weary and disheartened. He stopped before her, about to inform her of his fruitless search, but she tragically pointed to her pocketbook and burst into tears, which seemed to soften any wrath he might have justly felt at her carelessness, for, to her relief, he passed on and disappeared into the smoking compartment. She did not see him again during the remainder of the journey.

The next morning, when Jack took her hand to greet her as she stepped smilingly off the train, he reached his other hand over her shoulder.

"Why, hello, father!" he said. "I wish I had known you were coming home on this train. You might have met Louise and taken care of her."

She turned and blushed as she recognized her benefactor of the evening before.

"Well, well; so this is your sweetheart," he said, smiling reassuringly at the much disconcerted Louise. "Well, Jack, my son, she needs a protector."—What to Eat.

Doctoring Among the Khirghis.

Outside the doorway of the kibitka (or black tent) lay a man writhing in agony. Behind him and sitting on his haunches was one of the ugliest and most repulsive individuals I have ever seen. Osman (the dragoman) described him as the doctor. This fellow had a huge instrument with two strings upon which he continually strummed, chanting all the time in a doleful manner, and winding up the end of each verse of his song with a piercing shriek. The man on the ground was attacked by dysentery, and this, I was informed, was the method by which the Khirghiz were cured. When the doctor had got half way through his song, a couple of Khirghiz approached, carrying two sheep. One was placed at the head and the other at the feet of the patient, and at a given signal each Khirghiz whipped out his knife and cut the throat of the animal, so that the blood should fall on the head and feet of the man to be cured.—R. L. Jefferson's "A New Ride to Khiva."

All Fools' Day.

April fools' day is the octave of, or eighth day after, March 25, the old New Year's day. It was the last day of the new year festivities, when much license was allowed. The tricks and practical jokes of the day are said to have their origin in the way Christ was sent from the high priest to the procurator and back again before his crucifixion, but as the Hindoos have similar customs at their festival of March 31 (Huli) the proposed origin is almost certainly incorrect.

Woes of the Disobedient.

Ethel (to her younger brother, who has been whipped)—Don't mind, brother, don't mind.

Brother (between sobs)—That's just what I was licked fer.—Ohio State Journal.

Tea drinkers in London are swindled systematically. A number of old women go about and buy up from servants tea leaves that have been used. The leaves are then artificially colored, dried and sold as good tea.

Concerning bills, the average man would pay up faster if other people would pay him.—Indianapolis Journal.

The idea for the disposition of fullness around the hips, promised for the immediate future and already in sight, is an overdress with box plaits beginning at the waist on either side of the front and extending around the back. There is a little space between these plaits, and they are caught down flat nearly to the knee.—New York Sun.

OBEYING ORDERS.

How Two Applicants For a Job Handled the Same Problem.

A young man with a decidedly seedy appearance entered the superintendent's office and placing his hand familiarly upon the superintendent's shoulder accosted him thus:

"Boss, can you gimme a job?"

"What department?"

"Either brakin or firin."

"Do you know the book of rules?"

"Some."

"Well, let me see how well you are posted. We will suppose you were firing a train that was running from Jersey City to Philadelphia; the engineer would get killed and you would take his place. You would find on his clip that the train had orders to take the sidetrack for another train somewhere in the woods where there was no telegraph office. Now, suppose that train did not arrive there for, say, 12 hours, what would you do?"

"That would be the affair of the conductor, not mine."

"I will take your name, and if we have need of your services we will send for you. Good day."

The next applicant to enter seated himself back of the superintendent and waited for him to break the silence, which he did shortly.

"Well, sir, what can I do for you?"

"I would like to have a job, boss."

"In what department?"

"Train service."

"Are you familiar with the book of rules?"

"A little."

The superintendent then asked him the same question as the first.

The fellow scratched his head, then, looking the superintendent square in the eye, he replied, "Boss, if the orders looked good and were positive I would stay on that side track until hades froze over."

"Go down and report to Mr. ——, the trainmaster, for duty."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Men Killed Without Wounds.

At the battle of Sedan, in the Franco-German war, one man was picked up whose achilles tendon—the strong tendon which runs down to the heel—was torn in two, but who had not any sign on his skin of having been hit. A big piece of shell broke another man's leg, but did not even raise a blush on his skin. Another soldier had his skull broken into a dozen pieces, but the scalp was quite uninjured. And the whole shoulder of another was simply pulverized, yet the skin over it had neither scratch nor bruise.

When a shell glides along over the heart, liver, stomach or any other internal organ, it bruises and tears it, causing instant death, but the most powerful microscope would not reveal a trace of damage to the skin.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, APRIL 22, 1900.

"LINCOLN REPUBLICANS."

Change in Title of the Silver Republican Party to Be Made at the Convention in Kansas City.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 21.—Formal announcement of the proposed change in the title of the Silver Republican party was made to-day in a document setting forth the party platform, issued by Executive Agent Corser. The announcement states:

"Lincoln Republicans" are to succeed "Free Silver Republicans," and the National Silver Republican party is to give way to the Lincoln Republican party. The party of one issue is to become the party of several issues, and the issue to which it owes its origin is to be pushed into the background. While changing its name it becomes more democratic than ever, and, its leaders hope, more able to render effective service to "the regenerated Democracy" than in 1896.

The transformation scene is to take place at Kansas City, July 4th, when the national conventions of both the Fee Silver Republicans and the Democratic parties are in session.

It is alleged in the statement that the Republicans of to day are different in all but name from the Republicans of Lincoln's time.

E. S. Corser, who issued the manifesto, has acted in the capacity of official intermediary between the national organizations of the various anti-Republican parties and believes that the result of preliminary work accomplished by the Lincoln Republican League will lead to the adoption at Kansas City by the silver Republicans of a platform, the planks of which have already been formulated, glorifying Lincoln's memory, incidentally excoriating President McKinley and his administration and predicting the nomination of Bryan and Towne by the Democratic Convention.

Lincoln Republican League workers have been especially active in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Minnesota, the latter State being the centre of the movement.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

Financial Plan for Reorganization of the Company—An Issue of Five Per Cent. Preferred Stock.

BALTIMORE, MD., April 20.—The financial plan for the reorganization of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company provides for an issue of 5 per cent. preferred stock not to exceed $20,000,000, and $20,000,000 of common stock, or so much thereof as may be necessary to make the change for the outstanding stocks of the roads united.

There will also be an issue of 4 per cent. certificates of indebtedness not to exceed $3,000,000. In the exchange holders of Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company of South Carolina preferred stock will receive for each share 150 per cent. in certificates of indebtedness of the new Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company.

Holders of the common stock will receive for each share one and one-half shares of preferred stock and one and one-half shares of common stock of the new company. Holders of the stock of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company of Virginia will have the right to exchange their shares on the basis of one and one-half shares of preferred and one and one-half shares of common stock of the new company for each share of the old stock.

Wilmington and Weldon stockholders will receive for each share of their present holdings two shares of preferred and two shares of common stock of the new organization.

CAPE NOME COUNTRY.

Miners Flocking to a New Strike Across the Divide.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SEATTLE, WASH., April 21.—The steamer Cottage City has arrived from Skagway. She brings five men who left Cape Nome on January 24th, ten days after the latest previous information. They bring a story of a new strike across the divide 100 miles east of Nome. The strike was made on a small creek. The first several pans ran about $25 to $35. As the bed rock was scraped, the amount reached $40, and great excitement followed. A stampede has taken place from Nome, but only a few took part in it, the rest believing they have as good property as they wanted. Mr. Morgan said: "Cape Nome and the contiguous country is richer than people have estimated. It will be, this Summer, the greatest mining camp the world has ever seen."

WENT THROUGH A TRESTLE.

Freight Train on the Southern Wrecked Near Spartanburg, S. C.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

GREENVILLE, April 21.—The rainfall in this section of the South the past two days has been terrific and almost continuous. All streams are higher than for years and many of them are still rising.

Part of a freight train, bound north, on the Southern railway, went through the trestle over Thicketty creek, between Spartanburg and Gaffneys, today. The engine and tender passed over safely, but five cars loaded fell with the trestle. Nobody was killed. It is supposed the heavy rains weakened the structure. All trains are delayed, being run around by Charlotte, Columbia and Spartanburg, throwing them two hours and a half behind time.

Ernest E. Pons, a prominent lawyer of Jacksonville, Fla., was shot and killed during an altercation with Richard and James Altman, at Sandersen, Fla. The cause of the shooting cannot be definitely learned, but is supposed to be the result of an old feud.

THE MARCH OF IMPERIALISM.

Vigorous Criticism of President McKinley and the War Department in Senate.

THE BACON RESOLUTIONS.

Calling for Information as to Allowances Made Army Officers Stationed in Cuba and Porto Rico Unauthorized by Law—Naval Bill.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—After a discussion lasting more than two hours, the Senate to day agreed to the two resolutions offered yesterday by Senator Bacon, Georgia, calling upon the Secretary of War for information as to the allowances made to army officers stationed in Cuba and Porto Rico and the sums expended in providing quarters and equipages and other conveniences for them. The debate took a wide range, many Senators participating in it.

Consideration of the Quay case was resumed and Senator Perkins, California, presented an argument favorable to Mr. Quay's claim to a seat in the Senate under the Governor's appointment.

When the two resolutions offered by Senator Bacon yesterday were laid before the Senate, the senior Senator from South Dakota delivered a characteristic address in support of the resolutions. He criticised vigorously the statements made by the President and War Department in response to his resolutions, maintaining that they were not complete, or satisfactory.

Mr. Hawley, chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, resented the statements of the South Dakota Senator as "reckless and unwarranted," and asserted that all information required by the Senate would be furnished in due time.

Senator Carter, Montana, in an explanation of the subject which he had investigated, said that additional salaries had not been granted to army officers on service in Cuba or in Porto Rico. When the United States assumed the functions of government in Cuba and in Porto Rico, army officers were assigned to perform civil as well as military duties. These officers, he said, were thrust into positions where their expenses were considerably increased. He instanced the case of an officer of his own acquaintance who found it impossible to meet his additional necessary expenses out of his regular pay. He, therefore, asked to be relieved from duty in Cuba or be given an allowance for expenses. He was given an allowance of $1800 a year because the Secretary of War and the President felt that the officer ought not virtually to be fined for the performance of duties to which he was assigned.

Senator Tillman suggested that it might be well to wait until the resolutions were answered before entering upon a discussion of them.

"We on the other side," said he, "want to know something of this question and have not had the advantage of information from the War Department."

Senator Bacon, the author of the resolutions, discussed them at some length. He dissented strongly from the proposition that the President could collect and disburse according to his unrestrained judgment, the revenues of Cuba. He did not have that unlimited power. He maintained that the laws of the United States expressly forbade the giving to army officers any additional compensation above their regular pay. If allowances were necessary by reason of their assignment to duty in Cuba, the matter ought to have been brought, in his opinion, to the attention of Congress. He believed it was a dangerous precedent for the executive branch of the government to fall into the habit of violating the law thus openly.

"Can we not direct the President to withdraw the army from Cuba?" inquired Senator Tillman.

"That is one thing we can do," replied Senator Platt of Connecticut.

"Do not the acts of Congress control in Cuba?" asked Senator Daniel, Virginia.

"No," replied Senator Platt sharply. "Do not the laws of the United States as to the pay and emoluments of officers of the army apply in Cuba?" persisted Senator Daniel.

"As to the pay and emoluments of army officers, yes," replied Senator Platt, "but as to what shall be done in Cuba, no. Our occupation of Cuba is military and is under executive and not legislative authority."

"Where does the President get this great authority?" again asked Senator Daniel.

"From the constitution," replied Senator Platt. "As commander-in-chief of the army, the President has authority far beyond the power which may be conferred upon him by Congress."

Senator Daniel, replying to Senator Platt, expressed surprise at the statements made by the Connecticut Senator. It was the first time, he said, that he had ever heard the doctrine of absolutism of the President of the United States asserted on the Senate floor.

"Such a doctrine," said he, "should not go unchallenged here. The President of the United States is given certain specific powers under the constitution. Beyond this, his executive duty is to see that the laws are faithfully executed."

"Isn't this simply the blossoming of the imperialistic tree," suggested Senator Tillman.

"It is not the blossoming of the tree," continued Senator Daniel. "It is far beyond that. It is the perfection and the rotting of the fruit. It will fall from the tree of its own weight. In falling I trust it will do something to remind the people of the country of the fearful precipice on the brink of which they are standing."

Continuing, Senator Daniel declared that no person, be he boy or sultan, had power to over-ride definite and recognized authority and law. "If," he maintained, "in defiance of law, the President had authorized the payment of additional salaries to the army officers in Cuba, it was an exhibition of such absolutism as never had been known in this country, and the defence of the action by the Senator from Connecticut was extraordinary."

Senator Chandler agreed with Senator Platt that the President could make allowance for the military officers in Cuba, but he did not believe that he could legally increase their salaries. He hoped that when the reply came it would show a satisfactory condition of affairs, and as for the decorations, he apprehended that only the public buildings had been touched and that these only had been cleaned, whitewashed and fumigated to make them habitable. Possibly on the palace $75,000 had been expended, and he hoped that Gen. Gomez would be elected as the first president of the island, and that he would enjoy his life in the palace as renovated by Gen. Brooke.

Senator Tillman considered the discussion as premature and thought it had been sprung by the Republican Senators as a sugar-coating to the pill of the acknowledgment of the Secretary of War that he had been making additional payments to army officers which were unwarranted. Nor did Mr. Tillman accept the dictum that we must emulate Spain in our government of the island. He was willing that the place should have been fumigated of all ideas of tyranny, but if the officers were to receive double pay and be allowed to live in palaces, they never could be gotten out of the island. As for the item of whitewash he did not take exception to it; but he apprehended that the Republican party would need a considerable quantity of that article before they succeeded in convincing the people that the proceeding in question was regular and proper.

The resolutions were then agreed to without division.

The Quay resolution was taken up, discussed until 4 o'clock when the Senate adjourned.

House of Representatives.

The animated controversy over the Naval Appropriation bill which began yesterday was not resumed to-day and after brief consideration this important bill was passed.

Mr. Underwood, Alabama, whose filibuster had brought affairs to a temporary standstill, explained that there was no purpose to delay, but merely to insist that time be given for consideration and a vote be taken on the government armor factory proposition. Mr. Vandiver submitted this proposition in a motion to recommit the bill with instructions to the Naval Committee to frame a provision for a government factory. The instructions were ruled out, and subsequently the motion to recommit was disagreed to without division. The bill was thereupon passed without a record vote. As finally adopted the measure provides for two battleships, three armored cruisers and three protected cruisers. The $545 figure on armor is stricken out.

After 1 P. M. the House devoted itself to eulogies on the late Representative Settle, of Kentucky.

ECUMENICAL CONFERENCE.

More Than Two Thousand Missionaries Present at the Opening Session in Carnegie Hall.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, April 21.—With an ex-president of the United States—Benjamin Harison—to bid them welcome, there are gathered to day in Carnegie Hall more than 2,000 missionaries from almost every quarter of the globe. For ten years preparations have been under way for this meeting, known as The Ecumenical Conference on Foreign Missions. It is the third of its kind ever held. Every branch of the Christian Church is represented except the Roman Catholic, the Greek, and that branch of the Anglican Church known as the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel.

The great hall was completely filled when ex-President Harrison began his address of welcome. On the platform were many clergymen and statesmen of world wide fame. Seated with the great body of the delegates were many workers from foreign lands whose bright costumes added a dash of color to the scene.

Following General Harrison's address the Rev. Judson Smith, D. D., chairman of the general committee, welcomed the delegates.

Responses on behalf of the delegates were made by the Rev. R. Wardlaw Thompson for the British delegation; the Rev. Joseph King, of the Australian delegation; and the Rev. Jacob Chamberlain, M.D., D.D., for the missionaries generally.

The rest of the session was devoted to the report of the general committee presented by the Rev. S. L. Baldwin, D. D., secretary of the committee.

In the evening an enormous crowd of people went to Carnegie Hall in the hope of getting admission to hear the national welcome extended to the delegates on behalf of the nation by President McKinley.

FLOODS IN MISSISSIPPI.

Damage to Property Estimated at Fully Three Million Dollars.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW ORLEANS, April 21.—The floods which commenced the early part of the week have already caused, at a conservative estimate, fully $3,000,000 loss in Central and Southern Mississippi, to say nothing of the damage sustained by the railroads. The extent of the losses has not yet been fully realized and it may be some days yet before an accurate total can be reached, as mail communication has been entirely cut off between those localities which have suffered most. In Louisiana, too, great damage was done by the unprecedented rains, but in this State they are more inferential than positive. A special from Columbia, Miss., fixes the loss in that little town and its immediate vicinity at $500,000.

No Change in Situation.

JACKSON, MISS., April 21.—With the exception of a heavy rainfall now in progress, there is no change in the flood situation to-night. Pearl river fell four inches during the afternoon, and if the rain proves of short duration and local in nature the water will be subsiding rapidly in the inundated district by to-morrow. The Illinois Central railroad is now getting its trains through to New Orleans.

THE PLAGUE IN MANILA.

Total Number of Deaths from the Disease 119 Chinamen and 66 Filipinos.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MANILA, April 21.—The sudden deaths of Filipinos and Chinamen in Quiapo market have led to an investigation showing that fifteen cases of the plague, fourteen of which were fatal, have occurred within a week. The market is located in the center of the city. In black, rotten wooden buildings, the keepers of the stalls live there with their families huddled together in great filth. Some of the victims were stricken and died within an hour. There have been several deaths in other sections of the city recently which have been traced to infection from the market. After all the market people had gathered together today the health officers threw a guard around the buildings, and will keep the inmates quarantined there for a fortnight. They will then burn the market. The total number of bubonic deaths are 119 Chinamen and sixty-six Filipinos. The plague elsewhere has been suppressed. Not one infected person has been in the Chinese district for ten days past.

AN ENGAGEMENT AT DEWET'S DORP.

British and Boer Forces Are Again in Striking Distance of Each Other.

FIGHTING AT LONG RANGE.

British Accounts Meagre and Unsatisfactory—The Boers Still Surround Wepener—Gen. Methuen Attacked—Other News.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, April 22.—Dispatches arriving from the seat of war, though meagre and unsatisfactory, clearly indicate renewed activity at all points where the British and Boer forces are in striking distance of each other. Interest for the moment centres at Dewet's Dorp and Wepener, where fighting is evidently in progress.

A dispatch received from Aliwal North, dated April 21st, says that there was heavy firing on the previous day between Dewet's Dorp and Wepener and around Wepener on Saturday, but that no particulars have been received.

A special dispatch from Maseru, dated Saturday, says:

"The investment of Wepener continues. The Boers seem determined to do their utmost to capture the garrison before relief arrives. Severe fighting appears imminent."

The activity of the Boers at Elandslaagte apparently has failed to draw General Buller, if that was its object, into doing more than repel the attack made on his advance posts.

A dispatch from Warrenton, dated Saturday, says:

"There has been intermittent and ineffective sniping by the Boers, who also fired a few shells, both during the day and the night, at the station, the past two days.

Firing at Long Range.

BLOEMFONTEIN, April 20.—Continuing their march on Friday, Generals Chermside and Rundle came into contact with the Boers near Dewets Dorp at noon. The fighting continued until dark and was principally carried on by the artillery, which temporarily silenced two of the Boer guns.

The British command the hills for miles around the Boers, who are reported to hold strong positions, but are probably retiring. The casualties on the British side were slight and most of them occurred among the yeomanry and mounted infantry. The firing was at long range. None of the British troops were killed.

Methuen's Force Attacked.

BOSHOF, O. F. S., April 21.—At midday yesterday General Methuen's field force at Swartzkopjes fontein was ordered to return to Boshof. Its convoy extended over six miles. The escort took up a position on a hill commanding the road just in the nick of time, as a force of 2,000 Boers with two guns and a pom-pom suddenly appeared in the vicinity and opened a very heavy fire. The British, however, held them in check until the column reached a point of safety, when they retired. The British had several casualties. The Boers fought determinedly and must have suffered considerably, as they once advanced to within three hundred yards of the hill, whence a concealed detachment of the British opened a heavy fusilade on them.

Still Surround Brabant.

PRETORIA, Friday, April 20—President Kruger has received through President Steyn an official reports sent by General Dewet under date of April 20th to the effect that the latter still surrounds General Brabant's colonials at Wepener and that he has captured eleven prisoners, including the chief artillery officer. The report adds that the British coming from Aliwal North are destroying farm houses on the way.

The Irish brigade paraded this morning in front of President Kruger's house. The president made a speech to them and the force was afterwards photographed.

Fighting at Dewets Dorp.

BLOEMFONTEIN, April 21.—Rundle's force came in contact with the enemy yesterday four miles southwest of Dewets Dorp. They occupied strong positions covering the town. The yeomanry and mounted infantry, seized another position which enabled Rundle to drive the enemy off and occupy the high ground the enemy had been holding. Rundle advanced this morning, early, and is now again engaging with the enemy. Our casualties yesterday were two men severely wounded and Lieutenant O'Connor and seven men slightly wounded.

The Situation Reviewed.

LONDON, April 21.—Spencer Wilkinson, reviewing the situation in South Africa for the Associated Press, says at midnight:

"The Boers admirably understand how to adapt their tactics and strategy to the country. Their art consists in compelling the British to attack and make exhausting marches across a country ill-provided with roads. Thus the first step is to surround in superior force an isolated party of British. This compels the British, if they try to escape, to attack under conditions which give all the advantages of cover and defensive use of rifle fire to the Boer force. The British commander-in-chief is then forced to send a relief expedition from a distance. The Boer force interposes and the British, in order to get forward, are again compelled to attack.

"This is the history of Wepener, where Colonel Dalgetty has fifteen hundred men surrounded by Boers. General Brabant from the south and General Rundle from the west have to fight their way to the relief of Dalgetty.

"General Rundle has part of his own and General Chermside's divisions, which, if fully present, would make eighteen thousand men. His plan should be to try to surround the Boers in front of him, but as they ride and his men walk, he may find this impracticable and have to push them back slowly by the combination of a flank with a frontal attack.

"The Boers are using their small forces with great energy. A day or two ago they were reconnoitering Gen. Roberts' position north of Bloemfontein. Next day they attacked Lord Methuen who was retiring toward Boshof."

CONSOLIDATION RATIFIED.

Meeting of Atlantic Coast Line Stockholders in Charleston, S. C.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 21.—At a special meeting of the stockholders of the Atlantic Coast Line held here today the plan of consolidating the lines of the company was ratified. W. G. Elliott was elected president; Harry Walters, first vice president; Alexander Hamilton, second vice president; C. S. Gadsden, third vice president. The action taken to-day was identical with that taken at Richmond and Wilmington within the last few days. The system will own and control 2,600 miles of railroad.

NEW YORK TRUCK MARKET.

Strawberries Have Advanced and Transactions Brisk—Other Quotations.

[Special Star Telegram.]

NEW YORK, April 21.—The strawberry market is active and prices are ruling as high as 45 to 50 cents, which is an advance over the previous quotations Fancy asparagus is bringing from $3.50 to $4, while prime stock is worth from $2.50 to $3. Cabbages are bringing $4, and other prices are unchanged. The market is brisk and prospects bright.

BERRY SALES YESTERDAY.

Reports Received from Burgaw—Shipments to Philadelphia and New York.

[Special Star Telegram.]

BURGAW, N. C., April 21.—Mr. G. W. Horsey, general agent for Messrs. E. B. Redfield & Co., of Philadelphia, to-day received a telegram from his house stating that the shipments of strawberries made by him for Mr. T. W. Wells were sold for 50 cents per quart. Another shipment by Mr. A. B. Croom brought 45 cents.

Messrs. M. T. Foley & Co., of New York, also reported sales at 50 cents for a crate shipped by Mr. Croom at the same time. Both the Philadelphia and New York markets are reported active and prospects good for the coming week.

ROCKY POINT'S GOOD SHIPMENT.

Berries Ripening Fast and Many Crates Expressed North—Excessive Rains.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

ROCKY POINT, N. C., April 21.—Shipments of strawberries from this point have begun in earnest and already upwards of forty crates have gone North, including twenty-five crates which will go by to morrow morning's express. Fair prices are being realized. The excessive rains have damaged the ripening berries to some extent but not materially. A little rain was needed, but the fall was too heavy to result in advantage to the crop.

DISGUISED AS MEN.

Boer Women Found Among the Dead on the Battlefields.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, April 21.—A letter from a nurse in a hospital at Cape Town corroborates an unpleasant feature of the war. The letter says that the medical officers, for sanitary reasons, forced a number of Boer prisoners to bathe in the river behind the hospital. Two of them absolutely refused to strip, and when forced to do so it was found they were women in men's clothes. The writer adds: "Quite a number of the dead on the battlefields have been found to be women, similarly disguised, and, worse than all, it has often been these women who have been guilty of atrocities, such as killing the wounded."

GOEBEL ASSASSINATION.

Governor Taylor Indicted for Being Accessory to the Murder.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The World to morrow will say:

"W. S. Taylor, Governor of Kentucky, is in New York in consequence of the finding of an indictment against him by the grand jury of Frankfort, charging him with being an accessory before the fact to the murder of William Goebel. He appealed to Governor Roosevelt yesterday afternoon asking that any demand for an extradition be denied."

CHICAGO STRIKE VICTIMS.

A Thousand Workmen and Their Families Threatened With Starvation.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, April 21.—Starvation has become a factor in the building trades strike. President Caroll, of the building trades council, estimate, that 1,000 workmen are in actual want and that with their families 4,500 persons are now in the acute stage of suffering as victims of the strike. The labor leaders recognize this situation and are making plans for relief on a large scale.
